A lovely Cloisonné enamel lamp! An antique ginger jar from 19th-century Japan converted into a lamp. A beautiful palette of marigold-oranges, turquoise-blues and Chinese red. A dragon motif symbolizing strength takes center stage surrounded by sweet little butterflies and floral patterns. A treasured find for collectors and enthusiasts of unique and one-of-a-kind pieces with a story to tell!

Cloisonné is an ancient technique that uses metal wire to form and outline artistic designs, creating cells or sections (called cloisons) that are filled with colorful enamel. After the enamel's fired at high temperatures it becomes a hard polished glassy surface. A treasured find for collectors and enthusiasts of unique and one-of-a-kind pieces. As a Curator and Interior Designer, these are the timeless qualities I seek – knowing it will transcend time, always in style, never trendy. A treasured find for collectors and enthusiasts of unique and one-of-a-kind pieces.
