

MID-CENTURY IRON SIDE CHAIRS WITH ROSE TARLOW STRIPED VELVET FABRIC

CHA-012

Fabulous Mid-Century hand-forged iron side chairs in the manner of Gio Ponti and Tomaso Buzzi surrealist arrow motifs. Re-upholstered exclusively for THE TASTEMAKER SHOPPE in a Rose Tarlow green-and-gold striped cut-velvet, an unexpected rich textural contrast against the iron frame. This fabric is no longer in production, making these chairs more “specialty and found”. A golden-bronze cord trim around the seat edge gives a tailored sophisticated finish. We have 2 pairs available, a total of 4 chairs.

Please note, we do not recommend these as primary or dining chairs, but rather as secondary chairs used for their aesthetic. Although very sturdy, they are too upright, it's not very comfortable to lean against the ironwork.

Please see our other listings with this Rose Tarlow fabric - Pair of Euro pillows and an upholstered ottoman.

Rose Tarlow is a design legend, one of the most original talents in the design industry today. Tarlow is an Interior Designer, antiquarian, and author, with a line of furniture and textiles (exclusive to the trade). Her Melrose House showrooms, based in LA and NY are known for mixing traditional and modern aesthetics with casual elements like reclaimed wood, French oak beams, plaster, and stone. She blends antiques with minimalism, creating chic lived-in interiors. Her A-List clients include David Geffen, Oprah, Barbara Walters, and others. Editor Marian McEvoy wrote in Veranda Magazine that Tarlow, Albert Hadley, Jacques Grange, Michael Taylor, Renzo Mongiardino, and John Stefanidis, were six interior designers who had an "enormous impact on the design world". She's been featured in nearly every important architecture and design publication and has won many honorable design awards. If you enjoy a story with great provenance, these chairs are for you! As a Curator and Interior Designer, these are the timeless, design qualities I seek – knowing they will transcend time, always in style, never trendy. A treasured find for collectors and interior design enthusiasts!
